1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art discloses a field assembly for an electric motor having a field core, a wire redirection structure supported on the field core and winding wound on the winding support structure. However, the prior art fails to show, in combination with the invention that the winding is selectively wound on the winding support structure in one of a first direction to provide a first polarity and a second direction to provide a second polarity and the second polarity is different from the first polarity and the winding in the first direction is wound around the winding support structure and the wire redirection structure and to selectively wind the winding in the second direction, the winding is wound around the winding support structure and not wound around the wire redirection structure.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
